Parking Problems at Junction Frustrate Half-Dozen Towns and Hundreds of Commuters

It's a dark winter morning with the stars still out—or maybe a bright summer morning, which is almost as bad—and you've overslept just enough to mean you probably can't catch the 6:59 at the Junction.

For the next train—the 7:14—you know you'll have to wait about ten minutes to get into a Junction parking lot. Sure, there'll be a space for you, but for even later souls than you, rushing for the 7:40 or beyond, there will be nothing. Not a slot in a lot. They'll have to park, illegally, and run the risk of a West Windsor ticket.

Commuter parking is almost worse than commuting itself. It's not a very happy thing for West Windsor, either, and Mayor R. Ray Lockhart of that municipality has written to the mayors of Princeton Borough and Township, East Windsor, Plainsboro, Lawrence and other towns whose citizens converge on West Windsor every weekday morning, suggesting that commuter parking is a regional responsibility and should be handled on a regional basis. Princeton Borough and Township should take the lead in resolving this problem, Mayor Lockhart wrote.

West Windsor cannot provide parking for everyone, he said.

Mayor Lockhart's letter was prompted by the fact that some 175 commuters had been parking at the Warner Concrete Company on land which Warner has been leasing from Penn Central. But the company wants to raze the factory and level the ground before turning the property back to Penn Central.

Cars were getting in the way of heavy-duty moving equipment, so Warner simply barricaded the area, thereby diverting those 175 cars to various other make-shift parking spots. Parking there was probably illegal anyway; and a trespass on private property.

West Windsor does, of course, provide a lot of parking for a lot of people who don't live there. The West Windsor Parking Authority, formed in April of 1973, has a lot accommodating 418 cars at $5.50 a month each.

The Authority was formed to help solve the problems of 1973, but according to Carole Carson, Administrator of the Authority, the situation today is once again as bad as it was in '73.

"We are definitely looking into the possibility of something additional," Ms. Carson says. "The property we're interested in is privately owned and has a potential for 500 cars, but we won't know exactly how many it will take until final plans have been made."

Then she laughs, somewhat ruefully.

"The lot we have now has been very successful. It seems as though

Steady Decrease in Lower-Grade Enrollment Source of Concern to Public Schools Here

Kindergarten enrollment has fallen off two years in a row in Princeton's schools. Superintendent Paul Houston thinks it's a serious situation and he'd like to see the formation of a study committee to explore its implications.

At Community Park School, principal Gene Biringer now expects 25 kindergartners instead of the 46 he had projected. At Johnson Park, principal Murray Cohen anticipates 16 instead of 30. Riverside's Acting Principal Dorothea Lummis counts 41, compared to the 54 who entered last September.

Only Littlebrook is different. Projected figures aren't available, but the school expects 35 kindergartners. In June, there were 31. Overall, Littlebrook's enrollment is up: 350 pupils had been expected, but there are already 371, whereas Community Park plans to receive 325 to 330—about 25 fewer than the school counted in June.

"There's no way of telling whether dropping kindergarten enrollment is a portent," Dr. Houston says, "but it could mean a serious problem in five or ten years: if kindergartens continue to decline, then obviously, first, second, third grades on up the line are affected, too."

By the time the doors open on Wednesday, September 7, there will be more, of course. Junior faculty at Princeton University will move into the Hibben-Magie apartments with little children, new families will come to the Institute for Advanced Study. But school tallies take these factors into account each year.

Trend May Continue. "We try to anticipate in the spring, building in the decreasing enrollment," Dr. Houston continues. "We say this school is losing ten students a year so we'll project 290 instead of 300. We've been pretty well on target for some years, but these past two with dropping kindergartens could be ominous. The lowest grade is what you worry about."

Questions arising from the drop are in the minds of Princeton's administrators. How to use staff and teachers? How to use space? Should the system freeze positions, as people retire?

Taking Community Park as an example, Mr. Biringer will have two classes fewer than he had last year. He knew he'd have to drop one, but the enrollment decline meant he had to drop another unexpectedly. Fortunately for his staff, he had a situation in which the teacher could be absorbed.

"At Johnson Park, the reduction was such that nobody had to be RIF'd," the superintendent says, explaining with a smile that RIF'd—pronounced RIFFED

---is educationese for Reduction in Force. Johnson Park will simply have smaller classes.

Fringe Benefits. "We have more space now to operate in," Mr. Biringer says. "The vocal and instrumental music classes, remedial work now have room. We can have two classes instead of three in open space."

Incidentally, Community Park's projections for first grade are almost "on the nose," Mr. Biringer says, and fourth and fifth grades are somewhat heavier than he anticipated.

Like Dr. Houston, Mr. Biringer thinks one reason for the kindergarten decline is that young families can't afford to live in Princeton.

Dr. Houston was surprised to find, in Princeton, a ratio of about five adults to every child. In other communities he has known, the ratio is about three to one. "It's an older community," he has observed.

Declining enrollment, especially in the younger grades, are not peculiar to Princeton. It is a national problem, Dr. Houston points out, quoting from an education journal that gives 1.8 children per family as the current birth rate, compared to 3.8 in 1956.

"Nobody knows much about it, and there seems to be no way to anticipate," the superintendent says, "but we need to study it."

PDS IS FULL

"Capacity Enrollment." Princeton Day School will open its 1977-78 academic year with a capacity enrollment of about 850 students, Headmaster Douglas O. McClure said this week.

Classes will start Monday, September 12 for upper and middle schools and Thursday, September 15 for the lower school. Orientation for ninth grade and all new upper school students will be at 10:30 a.m. Thursday, September 8, and open house for new students and parents in the lower and middle schools will be at 2:30 the same day.

Anne B. Shepherd, who taught for 28 years at PDS and, previously, Miss Fine's, has formally retired; she will, however, continue to teach some classes at the school.

Stephen Lawrence, a member of the English faculty since 1974, has been named to replace her as head of the English department.

After 11 years at PDS, Huson R. Gregory, who has been in guidance and college counselling, has left to assume the headmastership of the Portledge School in Locust Valley, New York. Lawrence Kuser will take over Mr. Gregory's portfolio in student guidance -- while continuing to teach math -- and Markell M. Shriver will be Director of College Counselling.

The new head of the lower school will be Sara Schwiebert, who has been teaching first grade. She will replace Steven Gilbert, who plans to do educational research during the coming school year. Alison Shehadi, math teacher at PDS and previously at Miss Fine's, since 1958, has been appointed head of the mathematics department.

Trustees, faculty, staff and students at PDS will spend the early fall preparing for the arrival in early November of the Evaluating Committee of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. PDS will be evaluated as part of the Association's regular ten-year accreditation process.

Most PDS students continue to come from Princeton, although Mr. McClure reports sharply increased enrollments from Trenton, Ewing, Lawrence and Hamilton Townships and from communities in Bucks County, Pennsylvania.

The Princeton post office has annual postal receipts of $7,311,661.90. As postmaster, Mr. Gall will earn $26,482.00 in salary and fringe benefits. He will be assisted by a staff of 133 employees.

The Postal Service's personnel costs represent about 85 percent of its annual national $15 billion budget. The average letter carrier makes $17,180 a year in salary and fringe benefits. The average clerk earns $17,456 in wages and benefits; the average mailhandler, $16,535. These salaries increase with the cost of living. The average supervisor earns $21,250 in salary and benefits.

Mr. Gall joined the Post Office Dept. in 1960 and was formerly postmaster at Coopersburg, Pa. He holds an associate degree from Mitchel College, a B.A. from Moravian College, an M.B.A. from Lehigh University, and is currently engaged in additional graduate work in Business Administration. Mr. Gall is a veteran of the Army Security Agency.

Mr. Gall, his wife, Lori, and children, Nina, Nora, and Mark will relocate to the Princeton area in the near future.

POSTMASTER NAMED

For Princeton Office. James S. Gall Jr. has been appointed postmaster of Princeton, it has been announced by the Eastern Regional Headquarters of the U.S. Postal Service.

Mr. Gall was appointed by the U.S. Postal Service under the non-political merit system established by the Postal Reorganization Act of 1970. Recommendations for appointments of postmasters are submitted by Regional Management Selection Boards, consisting of postal and non-postal members.

Parking Problems

the better parking you provide, the more cars you get."

At Princeton Township Committee's meeting last Wednesday, members speculated that other communities than the Princetons were contributing to the growing crowd at the station; Princeton hasn't grown that much in the months since the Authority lot was opened in January, 1974. But rough estimates made by the Authority show that Princeton does indeed make a generous contribution of commuter cars to the lot.

In February of this year, there were 132 Princeton cars with permits to park; 118 from East Windsor and Hightstown, 91 from West Windsor, 60 from Hamilton, 39 from Trenton, 18 from Plainsboro and 5 from Cranbury.

Waiting List Grows. The rapid growth of East Windsor and Plainsboro would seem to be a contributing factor. And indeed, the Authority's waiting list shows 30 from Plainsboro and 36 from Cranbury — quite a jump from the 18 and 5 tallied for those municipalities at present. There are 75 waiting from East Windsor, 81 from West Windsor and 84 from the two Princetons.

At first, the Authority lot had 368 spaces. Six months later, more spaces had to be added around the edges.

Not everybody on the waiting list is out on the street, so to speak; many use private lots. But Ms. Carson estimates that about 200 cars have no place to go, and she predicts that figure will rise to 250 or 300 by this winter.

Two privately-owned lots (The Maiden Lane Corporation) provide parking, but the 50¢ per day fee — doubled from 25¢ in 1974 — makes them almost twice as expensive as the Authority's charge. Also, they are filled to overflowing. Commuters say that 7:30 is the very latest you can find space, and maybe as early as 7 in the winter.

In April, Franklin D. Crawford was rejected by the West Windsor Zoning Board when he applied for permission to provide 627 spaces on his property. The land is in the R-8 residential zone. The Zoning Board said, among other things, that building the lot would not only cause more traffic, it would cause other communities to shrug off the need to provide parking on their own. Mr. Crawford has appealed to Superior Court but the appeal has not yet been heard.

Quietly sitting on a siding

during all this is, of course, the Dinky.

"We live in fear that the Dinky will be cancelled," says Ms. Carson.

"We are interested in improving the parking at our end as a way of enhancing the use of the Dinky," says Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley. "We in Princeton — Borough and Township — should provide parking for our own people, but it's not realistic to think of the Borough as THE big place from which to get to the Junction."

The point of the Dinky is that if commuters don't use it, they'll lose it. If it rattles back and forth too often too empty, execution could be prompt.

Subsidize the Dinky. Harold Sheets, head of the West Windsor Parking Authority, wants to Save the Dinky, just like the Princeton committee of that name. One proposal, by the committee, has been to use excess revenue from lots around the Princeton Junction station — including private ones, under some arrangement yet to be worked out — to help subsidize the Dinky.

"The Parking Authority would be receptive to this plan," Mr. Sheets said this week. "We've told the Save the Dinky committee we want to see the Dinky continue and hope for more parking in Princeton toward that end. This is a regional problem, not the problem of a single municipality, and we're willing to look at this revenue proposal in that way, rather than take a more narrow stand."

The state's Department of Transportation has said it likes the idea of having all parking, public and private, in a Dinky-subsidizing package.

Freeholder Barbara Sigmund, active in saving the Dinky, says the committee's proposal to save the shuttle, submitted in the summer of 1976, is under consideration by the DOT and the Attorney General of the state. It provides for parking areas at both ends of the Dinky.

Land at the foot of University Place seems to be the target. Part of it, in the old Railway Express area, is leased by Carmen (Irish) Fasanella from Conrail, and commuters pay Mr. Fasanella to park there at 50¢ a day. Borough all-day meters in the area, designed for commuters, are 25¢ a day.

Another parcel of land, owned by Princeton University, is a student parking lot. Under both Borough and Township zoning ordinances, the University had to provide parking spaces in this Neighborhood-Business zone when Princeton Inn College was established. However, University officials say the lot is often almost empty.

Mayor Cawley likes the idea of a park-and-ride lot on Route One, perhaps where the old American Cyanamid plant is located, with an intermediate Dinky stop before Princeton Junction. State and county money might pay for this—the state built the West Windsor Authority lot.

acquiring the land and turning it over to West Windsor to run — and maybe even provide a bus to downtown Trenton.

Under such a system, Mayor Cawley points out, traffic would be on major arteries.

100 Spaces Possible. About a year ago, former Township Committee member William Sutphin proposed creation of a Princeton Parking Authority to establish and run a lot at the foot of University Place. He estimated it could provide about 100 spaces.

Either the Township or Borough would set up the Authority, he suggested, and the other municipality authorize it to operate the lot.

"I have no particular objection to an Authority," Mayor Cawley said, "although I wonder whether we need that kind of structure. There's no problem about managing such a lot, the problem is getting the land dedicated to parking use."

According to Mr. Sutphin, some municipal officials have expressed uneasiness about an Authority's condemnation powers and its independence of municipal authority. However, in West Windsor, the Authority cannot condemn land unless it has specific authorization from the township committee for that specific piece of land.

"These are not easy problems to solve," Mayor Cawley admits, "we seem to think about it for a while and plans get just so far, and then they fall apart."

"It would be nice," said commuter Hugo Hoogenboom, who is also a Township Committee member, "if the Dinky met more trains..."

Store Manager Bound and Gagged--Robbery On Route 206 at 4 a.m. Sunday Nets $76

Two men, one armed with a handgun, bound and gagged the night manager at the Somerset Farms store on Route 206 early Sunday morning and escaped with $76.30. According to police, the two men entered the store around 4 a.m. The one armed with a pistol ordered the manager into the store lavatory in the rear, where they bound and gagged him with tape they had taken from a store shelf. The police investigation revealed that both suspects had entered the store earlier at 1:30 when they purchased coffee and cigarettes. Both suspects were described as white and approximately 28 years old. One was 6-0 to 6-1, 180 pounds with dark hair and a black moustache and wearing an orange or yellow shirt. The second was 5-6 to 5-7, 140 pounds, thin with sandy hair. He was wearing a tan waist-length jacket. Police declined to reveal the name of the manager, who, they said, was shaken by the experience. Sgt. Michael Kopliner, Det. Frank Boccanfuso and Ptl. Anthony Gaylord investigated.

CYCLE MISHAP FATAL
To Alonzo S. Collins. Alonzo S. Collins, 62, 159 John Street, died at 10:45 Monday morning in Princeton Medical Center, four days after he had fallen from his bicycle on Elm Drive on the Princeton University campus and struck his head. A lifelong resident of Princeton, Mr. Collins had been employed for the past 30 years as a member of the University's Grounds and Buildings Department.

Sgt. Thomas Procaccino and University Security members responded to a call at 12:21 Thursday afternoon that a cyclist had been injured on Elm Drive near Dillon Gym. Mr. Collins was unconscious and bleeding from a head wound when police arrived.

Dr. William Dalrymple of the university was summoned. He administered medical aid to the victim who was then taken to the Medical Center where he was admitted to the intensive care unit in critical condition.

Chief Michael Carnevale reported that a preliminary autopsy revealed the cause of death was from a severe skull fracture on the right side of the head.

According to the police investigation, Mr. Collins was approaching a pedestrian, a Princeton resident and university employee whom police declined to identify. The pedestrian saw the cyclist coming straight at him and tried to get out of the way.

Only partially successful, he was sideswiped by Mr. Collins who was thrown from his cycle, his head striking the pavement. Chief Carnevale said there is no known reason why Mr. Collins steered into the pedestrian. "He always rode a bicycle, it was his only means of transportation. He was an experienced cyclist."

He added that a witness indicated that Mr. Collins seemed to be unaware of the pedestrian. The latter did not require medical attention, police said.

An obituary appears on page 14.

COMMUNITY PARK NORTH: The new pond and park area on the north side of State Road opposite Community Park, are invisible to travelers along the road, because of the high earthen berm. But once you're up in the air, you can see it all. Spring rain delayed the project, but when fall comes, grass will be planted around the pond and some 150 evergreens will be planted on the berm and around the park. Paths have already been paved with wood chips, and there are wooden climbing gyms for kids. When official word comes from the state about Green Acres money, plans for the amphitheatre can proceed. It will be on the south side of the pond and may be completed next spring.

TWO HOMES ENTERED

In Township. Two homes were entered last week in the Township.

An air conditioner was removed from a side window to enter the home of James Roberts, 95 Wilson Road, while the occupants were vacationing.

The only thing stolen, police said, was $15 from a coin bank and small metal box in a bedroom. Ptl. James Vandemark investigated.

Cathy Sabo, 13 Grover Avenue, lost her passport when her home was entered between 2:30 Friday afternoon and 9 Saturday morning. Several bureaus and desk drawers in the home were rifled, police said. A picnic bench had been placed under a bedroom window to gain entry.

The victim's mother found Miss Sabo's pocketbook leaning against a tree at the foot of the driveway and her bankbook on the lawn. However, nothing was missing from the pocketbook, according to police.

MOPED STOLEN

Skateboards, Too. Two of the more popular means of transportation today -- mopeds and skateboards -- were the target of thieves last week in Princeton.

James N. Lapsley Jr., 78 Mount Lucas Road, discovered his red moped worth $489 had been stolen during the night when he opened his garage door in the morning. Police report the garage door had been closed but not locked.

A Borough resident told police on Friday that two skateboards had been stolen from the driveway of his home. They were valued at $60 and $80.

And a thief who preferred the more conventional mode of transportation stole a 1976 compact from a Wiggins Street driveway. Police believe the thief entered an unlocked door of the owner's house while he was asleep and stole the keys to the car.

Dorothea Lummis Back from Retirement As Temporary Principal at Riverside

Dorothea Lummis is back in the Princeton public school system -- but just for a while. It was six years ago that she left, after many years in many positions of responsibility.

She's back, temporarily, as interim principal of Riverside School until the school board can find a permanent principal to replace Edith Francis.

Riverside is familiar to Mrs. Lummis. She was acting principal there for a year, just before Mrs. Francis took over the job. She served as curriculum co-ordinator for the school system, and in earlier years, she was principal of the old Nassau Street School in the Borough system.

She likes being retired and has been active in drumming up scholarship money for Princeton students. But it's nice to be back, even if it's only for a little while.

Shopping Center, told Township police that 16 Timex watches with a combined value of $242.20 had been stolen last week from a display counter near the front of the store. Empty watch boxes were found at various counters throughout the store, Mr. Ullom reported.

An 8-track tape radio was removed from the dashboard of a pickup truck parked last week at the Jadwin Gym lot -- the loss was reported by Diana Ashton of Ringoes -- and Rocco Frazzetta, 13 Mulberry Row, listed the theft of eight new, boxed radio cassette

In the Borough, four geodes (a stone whose cavity is lined with crystals) were stolen from a glass cabinet in Guyot Hall on the University campus. A cabinet lock had been forced, police said.

They identified the stolen items as a geodinite specimen ($250), a Brazilian geode ($25), Mexican geode ($15) and a quartz crystal ($15.)

When your children are off to school in a pair of Stride Rite shoes, you can pat yourself on the back for knowing what's important. Fit and quality are important when children are in their peak growth stages. That's what we're famous for. And because Stride Rite shoes are made so well, they'll keep their good looks longer. Tribute to Howard Waxwood.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
The Princeton elementary schools were integrated in the fall of 1948, under the Davis "Princeton Plan" wherein grades 1-4 all went to the Nassau Street School and 5-8 to Quarry Street. This was a good plan and high hopes for integration in fact as well as in name, in this town once called "the farthest North Southern city."

Many of us parents sending children to Quarry Street had reservations re "The Plan". But that was before we met Howard Waxwood, Quarry Street principal and prior to evidence of his handling children, teachers and parents. Mr. Waxwood won us over. His part cannot be overrated.

The first baseball league in Princeton for boys ages 9-12 was planned in 1949 and launched in 1950. Desoite calls from some people for teams by local residential areas (translation: fully segregated), under Frank Clark, Jess Willard - and Howard Waxwood again - the YMCA Midget League sprang full-blown with boys assigned to teams solely on age and skill - and this is the program to this day.

With Howard Waxwood's burial we can say, "A Giant in the Earth".

FALLING PLANT BLAMED

For Car Accident. A flower plant falling from the front seat of a car was blamed for a single car accident Thursday on Armour Road.

Mrs. Cecilia R. Howell, 20 Armour Road, told police that she had just started from her driveway when she reached to her right to catch the falling plant. Her car hit the curb, traveled 14 feet and struck a Public Service Pole before coming to rest another 14 feet away. The impact pushed the pole forward, breaking the service wire to 31 Armour Road.

Mrs. Howell suffered abrasions of the forehead and pain in the right shoulder but refused medical aid. There were no charges by Ptl. Bernard Lenhard.

Pedestrian Hit. A 15-year old Kendall Park boy was struck by a car last week, moments after he had stepped from a Suburban Transit bus at the intersection of Nassau and Snowden Lane.

Mark A. Greenland was knocked to the ground and complained of pain to his hip and upper leg when he was struck by a car operated by Christine Salter of Trenton. The bus driver, Robert Gof-ton, told police that the victim had walked across the road in front of the bus when he was hit. There were no charges by Ptl. Robert Nielsen.

SPEEDERS ARE FINED
In Borough Court. Five Princeton area residents were fined Monday by acting Judge Robert Casey in Borough court for speeding.
Barbara Hoyle, 35 Finley Road; Mark K. Arnott, 11 Henderson Drive, and Robert H. Myhill, 258 Moore Street, all paid $15; Kenneth Bartolino, 7 Bolfmar Avenue, Cranbury, paid $35 and Ilse Drefius, 62C Rhus Plaza, Cranbury, paid $16.

Luther McKeller, 12 Lytle Street; Charles Phox, Brunswick Pike; and Thomas S. Patterson, 3 Colonial Avenue, Princeton Junction, were each fined $15 for red light violations.

YOUR SEWER PLANT: It's over 90 percent completed, ready to be phased-in as planned on November 1. The crew of 25 will be on hand the first week in October and the plant is even now undergoing final check-out, using water instead of its planned-for load. The National Guard armory is at the right. River Road goes across the middle of the

HUN RECEIVES GRANT

For Foreign Students. The C.V. Starr Foundation of New York has awarded the Hun School $15,000 as a matching grant in support of the school's Foreign Students Program. The grant provides funds for specially trained faculty and a curriculum designed to bridge language and cultural differences.

Fifteen new foreign students will participate in a special orientation session beginning Sunday. This advance session enables them to become acquainted with each other and with teachers, and to visit nearby points of interest before the opening of school on September 12.

"The program, which originated in 1973, has steadily gained recognition abroad so that applicants now outnumber the 35-40 available places," observed director Arthur Rozas. "Most of the students are preparing for admission to colleges and universities in the United States. We prefer to accept students for a minimum of 1½ years to insure major advances in language proficiency and adjustment to regular courses."

James Kerr and David Papier will again teach American Studies and English as a second language. Joining them will be a new member of the faculty, Mrs. Karen E. Czarnecki, who replaces Miss Eileen Julian.

The View from Here: Lunch-Hour Exercise Gives Rider a Different Outlook on Life

It's called a high wheeler, and if you happen to see one of these 19th century style bicycles weaving through the traffic of Princeton the chances are fairly great that the rider will be either Harry Mathes, who appears in this photograph, or Larry Davala, his colleague at the Princeton Engineering School.

"You very seldom see them around," Mr. Mathes shouted down from his five-foot high seat in remarkable understatement.

But Mr. Mathes, a lab technician, and Mr. Davala, who runs the machine shop at the Engineering Quadrangle, both own high wheelers and they ride them most days on their lunch hours. With a front wheel that measures 53 inches in height, the bicycle is one that you cannot help but notice. "It's something just to watch it go by," added Mr. Mathes, who by this time was posing for another photographer.

If you want to try one out, Mr. Mathes advised, you shouldn't just jump on and go free wheeling, or high wheeling, down the street. "You've got to know the do's and don'ts," he explained.

Do: Speed up slightly, instead of slowing down, when turning corners. You need the extra speed to keep from tipping over when you lean into a turn.

Brake Lightly. Don't: Never try to get off the high wheeler unless the pedal from which you are stepping is in the down position. It should reach that position at the same time you bring the wheel to a complete stop. "You've got to tap the hand brake just right and stop it very slowly," said Mr. Mathes. "Otherwise you'll go over head first."

The bicycle in this photograph is a reproduction of the original machine and can be tailor-made to the height of the customer. The reproductions cost about $350, up $100 or so since a year ago, according to Mr. Mathes.

Mr. Davala owns one of the original models. His high wheeler, obviously an antique, is valued at about $800.

That's a lot of money for a bicycle, but you get a lot of riding: One revolution of the wheel, Mr. Mathes said, covers about 16 feet of ground.

Pot Possession. Two 18-year old youths were charged with possession of under 25 grams of marijuana Saturday after their car was stopped on Stockton Street by police making a routine motor vehicle check.

Michael Stryker, 6 Fisher Avenue, and Michael R. Davis of Newark, Del., the driver of the car, are scheduled to appear in court September 21. The arresting officers, Ptl. Randy Sutton and Ptl. John Holcombe allegedly detected an odor of marijuana on Davis after stopping the car, according to Chief Michael Carnevale.

LARCENY IS CHARGED

Against Lawrenceville Man. A 23-year old Lawrenceville resident, James Furch, has been charged with larceny by Borough police.

Furch was alleged to have taken a wallet containing $35 from a purse that had been placed on a bar stool at the Hudibras Restaurant on Nassau Street. Sgt. Ralph Procaccino and Ptl. William Clark responded to a 12:02 call Saturday morning from the manager, who allegedly witnessed the incident.

Furch was later released, pending his appearance in court September 7.

During its five years of operation, the Squad has responded to 2,208 calls. The number of calls per year has grown with each successive year of operation. In the first year of the Squad's existence, slightly over 300 calls were answered. In the year 1978, the Squad responded to 565 calls. So far this year the Squad has answered 309 calls.

The four ambulances of the Twin W have traveled 43,758 miles. When the Squad first started, it had two used ambulances. Early in 1974 the Squad acquired its first new childhirth as well as the ambulance, one designed to carry extrication tools. The Squad's fourth ambulance, acquired in March, is suitable for the installation of paramedic coronary care equipment. The four ambulances of the Twin W during the five years of the Squad's existence have been in service 3,027 hours.

Trained Volunteers. The Twin W First Aid Squad is completely staffed by volunteers, who have given 11,907 hours of their time in active service in the past five years - not including training and demonstrations.

Volunteers must complete Advanced First Aid, which includes light rescue and extrication and emergency necessary first aid techniques. The fully qualified first aider must also have taken a defensive driving course and must renew yearly his expertise in cardio-pulmonary resuscitation. More than half the members of the Twin W First Aid Squad have additionally gone on to become emergency medical technicians.

Three members of the Twin W Squad have completed or are in the process of completing paramedic training. To become a paramedic requires hundreds of hours of training as well as in-hospital service including attendance at childbirths, operations and autopsies. After completing paramedic training, the volunteer is qualified to ride the Lifemobile and give advanced coronary support.

COUNCIL TO MEET

In Extra Sessions. The month with Labor Day in it will be a month of labor for Borough Council, which has scheduled meetings for every Thursday night in the month except September 22.

Next Thursday, September 1, Council will hold public hearing on the new service agreement with the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority. This is the agreement that takes into account the withdrawal of Hopewell Township from sewerage by the Authority. Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley said this week that the new agreement has provisions relieving the two Princetons of some of the heavy costs anticipated between the time the new plant opens November 1 and the time all municipalities have tied in.

Council may also consider the request by Lawrence Benson and John Henderson for air-rights over Borough rights-of-way. The proposed new Benson Building on Witherspoon and Spring has apartment balconies hanging out over the Borough-owned sidewalk.

Mayor Cawley reported to the press an announcement from the state that the Borough will receive $12,100 in state road aid. "It came out of the blue!" the mayor reported. He thinks it may represent a revival of an old state aid program providing automatic aid to municipalities under a formula arrangement. However, Princeton Township has not reported any such state largesse.

SENT TO WORKHOUSE

For Contempt of Court. John E. Redmond, 25, no known address, was sentenced to 30 days in the Mercer County Workhouse Monday by Judge Robert Casey, who found him guilty of contempt of court.

Redmond had been picked up Saturday by Eatontown police on warrants from Princeton police charging him with larceny, assault and battery and possession of stolen property.

Originally, Redmond was arraigned Sunday before Judge Casey. But he was so obstreperous in court, police said, that Judge Casey was unable to continue. He was charged with contempt of court and heard the following day.

Redmond is also being held in lieu of $7500 bail for the previous charges which stemmed from entries at Center Business Machines and Tech Hi-Fi in Princeton in February and March of last year.

JOB PROGRAM LAUDED
By Young Employees. The Princeton Community House, which for the second year in a row has sponsored the Youth in Community Service job program to help dent Princeton's teenage unemployment problem, reports that 30 young people were put to work this summer and that the reaction from the employees and their employers was positive.

The youngsters began working July 5 and will complete the program this Friday. A one-day career seminar will be held this Wednesday at 1 at the Third World Center, 86 Olden Street. The YICS Program is funded through a grant from the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs, and it pays young people to work for non-profit agencies in the community. The agencies themselves pay nothing.

Although the YICS Program's level of funding has been cut this year from that of 1976, the Community-House-sponsored program has managed to provide a valuable service to the community. Many of the enrollees have received their first job through the program. The enrollees work for such agencies as the Senior Resource Center, the Princeton Nursing Home, the Public Library, and the Community Park Pool, as well as the Community House itself.

The YICS Program is staffed by a fulltime counselor, Kim Pearson, and counselor's aide, Kevin Marshall. The director of the program is Community House Director Earl Carter.

Experience Helps. "It's good that the young people are getting the experience of handling a job", noted Sue Rock, assistant director of the Public Library. A number of employees have been offered part-time jobs during the school year by their YICS employer.

BUSINESS

ATHENIAN OPENS
New Restaurant in Town.
Princeton's newest restaurant, the Athenian, which opened Tuesday at 25 Witherspoon Street has what other restaurants have: appetizers, soups, salads, platters, entrees, charcoal specialties and desserts. But it has one thing more that sets it apart: Greek specialties as delicious as they are hard to spell that will have diners believing they have been transported to a sun-drenched Grecian island. The Athenian is the most recent restaurant opened by Demetrios "Jimmy" Tzovolos and his five brothers. (He has another restaurant opening this summer in New Brunswick.) Two years ago, he opened his first place in Princeton, the Princeton Pizza Palace at 258 Nassau Street, and before coming to this area he had operated four eating places in New England. The Athenian, however, is his most ambitious undertaking. Open seven days a week from 11 a.m. to 2 a.m., it has seating for 85. Inside there is corseting and chandeliers. Hanging green vines line one wall. Up front, two stainless steel pizza ovens and a charcoal grill are dominant. The walls, a mixture of wood and plaster, resemble a Tudor house.

Actually, as its full name implies, Athenian Pizza & Restaurant, it is a restaurant and pizza and hoagie place, although Mr. Tzovolos calls the latter "grinders."

Have We Got Pizza? Like most pizza makers, Mr. Tzovolos feels his pizzas are the best. They are cooked in a pan rather than a tray and there are 11 choices - mozzarella, onions, peppers, mushrooms, sausages, meatballs, pepperoni, salami, anchovies, ham and bacon. They come in small, medium and large and in combinations of two and three. Prices range from $2 for a small mozzarella to $6.95 for a large Athenian Special.

There are 13 different grinders to choose from, cold platters, grilled sandwiches, charcoal specialties and entrees ranging from $2.50 to $3.25 consisting mainly of Italian dishes. Veal cutlet Parmigiana with spaghetti is $3.25.

However, it is his native Greek dishes, prepared by his Greek chef, Alek Alexopoulos, that Mr. Tzovolos is most proud of. There is Mousaka, a very popular Greek dish, he says, that has layers of eggplant, ground meat and potatoes baked with a wine, cheese or cream sauce. Pasticcio is a mixture of macaroni and ground beef covered with a sauce.

One of Mr. Tzovolos' favorites is Spanakopita or spinach pie and another popular dish, he says is Dolmades -- grape leaves stuffed with hamburger and topped with an egg-lemon sauce. A combination special of spinach pie, mousaka, stuffed grape leaves, sliced leg of lamb and rice pilaf is, he feels, something available nowhere else, and a good bargain at $4.50. A Greek salad is $2; $3 for a large serving.

For dessert try a Baklava, a nut and honey pastry with a strudel leaf cover.

Yes, there are take out orders (921-3425) and those who want to bring their own wine may do so, but there is a small fee for set-ups.

WHAT CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CAN DO FOR A FAMILY.

It can bring an understanding of God's closeness and care, helping each one in the family in everything he does. It can develop a deep love for the Bible, and joyful obedience to God's law.

It can teach every member, and the family together, to heal problems in the way Jesus showed.

How can Christian Science do all this? Through Sunday School classes that strengthen children. Through Sunday services that inspire parents. Through Wednesday testimony meetings where personal accounts of healing are shared. Through Reading Rooms where truths are pondered in quiet.

Won't you invite Christian Science into your family's life?

King's Grant is the Exclusive Local Representative for Homericia,
The Nation's Leading Home-Finding Service

King's Grant is particularly pleased to present one of Princeton's most distinguished properties; - a superb Georgian house on 43 acres of lawns, gardens and meadows in Princeton's handsomest area northwest of town.

Entering this great and gracious house, guests are greeted in the handsomely panelled entrance hall with black and white marble floor. The exquisite architectural detail is but an introduction to that found throughout the house, much of it imported from England. To the left is the morning room with a delicate marble mantel, deep wood cornice, pedimented door and a bow window looking out to the garden. The wide, graceful staircase with polished mahogany handrail ascends to the six family bedrooms and sitting room above.

The living room is a spacious 28' x 22' with magnificent fireplace and over-mantel, and doors opening to a terrace and to the greenhouse. The panelled dining room, also unusually large, with 18th century English mantel and finely carved pedimented doors can accommodate at least twenty at dinner. The far end of the dining room, with a sweeping vista of fields and hills through the lunetted French windows, provides space for a breakfast table in the bay.

The knotty pine panelled library with lighted cove ceiling, is a handsome book-lined retreat and in conjunction with the living room, adds further to the spaciousness of the house for entertaining.

The long covered terrace opens to the south lawn from the morning room and the living room. The magnificent ironwork is handsomely detailed in a intertwined oak leaf motif. Further along the south facade of the house is the fine large greenhouse with its own open terrace more informal in character and adjoining the cutting garden. Just outside the dining room is another terrace with a green garden, perhaps for afternoon tea, offering complete privacy yet with views across serene woods and greens where songbirds, pheasant and deer are found quietly grazing. In the English tradition of the private park there are brick and hedge enclosed gardens, a field planted in American holly, specimen shade trees, a stand of mature evergreens and a small meandering brook. In every season of the year these acres are a delight to the nature lover. Country living at its finest, yet exactly one mile from Nassau Street and the campus of Princeton University.

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

On three-quarters of an acre in the attractive Braeburn area. The property is beautifully wooded for privacy, naturalized with bulbs and flowering shrubs, lawns sloping down to a charming brook.

The house, a traditional design of two stories has a large living room with bookcases and cabinets, dining area, kitchen with built-in china cupboard, den, powder room and screened porch. Upstairs are 3 bedrooms and two full baths, excellent storage. The present owner is asking $120,000 for this superb property.

MONTGOMERY TOWNSHIP

A new contemporary country house is under construction on a magnificent site of over eleven acres with gorgeous panoramic view. There will be a large formal living room with fireplace, dining room, and a spacious country kitchen with family breakfast area. The family playroom will be unusually handsome including a raised hearth. The master suite will contain separate his and her bathrooms, three more full baths and a powder room.

MONTGOMERY TOWNSHIP

New Superintendent Faces Tough Challenge: Bringing School System, Community Together

"If you boiled my job down to the simplest terms, it's getting the community to understand that the school system is doing a better job than the community wants to believe; and getting people in the system to understand they're not doing nearly the job they need to be doing."

That's the way Paul Houston sees it, on a warm late summer afternoon not too far from the opening day of school, and about six weeks from the day he became Superintendent of Schools for Princeton.

He's baffled by what he sees.

"I go up to people on the street, or they recognize me and stop to talk, or they come into my yard, and they all say, 'You poor soul!' This makes me very sad, even though I understand the recent history of the school system."

"It isn't a system people should feel sorry for me for being the head of!"

In fact, he laughs about the friend who came up north for a visit after the Houstons had moved to Princeton from Birmingham.

"He went back to Birmingham and told everybody about Princeton and my job, and said of me, 'He's died and gone to heaven!'"

He's given a lot of thought to this, although his days have been busier than he expected in these six weeks. (He didn't think the search for an assistant superintendent and a principal for Riverside would take so much time.)

"I think the total of Princeton's school system is less than the sum of its parts," he explains.

Dr. Paul Houston

"You have a highly competent staff rated favorably in comparison to any town. You spend a great deal of money per child. You have tremendously talented students from solid homes that are supportive of education why, these are the kinds of students any district would give anything to have! You have a community surrounded by tremendous resources."

"Yet I have a sense of low morale. It isn't a question of how much more we could do if we spent more money, or had different teachers — not at all."

"I guess I would say that Princeton certainly has a 'mind' and a 'heart' but not a 'soul.' In the sense of 'spirit'."

More Responsive. Princeton's system is more responsive to the public than most systems he has observed, Dr. Houston said. "There is a WANTING to be responsive — the staff is not just going through the motions. When they mess it up it's just not knowing how to do it. They're not pulling the wool over your eyes."

"There is distrust of the school system and the board, but I don't see the need for that distrust. People questioning motivations, thinking that things are being done behind their backs, and I think this is unhealthy."

Dr. Houston has a list of things to do, and he talks about them — although not necessarily in order of their priority in his mind.

"Immediate attention must be given to the fusion of program with the curriculum. There have been some efforts in reading and math, but social studies and science haven't been attacked yet. And there is diffusion in the area of the arts — the direction of that program just isn't clear."

Dr. Houston explains that he's referring to a kind of framework: by the end of fifth grade, this is what a child should know

Also, the new superintendent would like to turn the system's attention to the gifted and talented child.

"There's no easy solution here, but we've probably put off wading into it long enough. Any way you turn in this one — you lose. Either you're called elitist, or parents say my child is gifted and you're not doing anything about it."

The system must develop a comprehensive approach to student assessment, Dr. Houston believes.

"Not just a test here and there, but why are we testing, and how will the results be used and how useful are they?"

Better Feedback Needed. "We need to provide better feedback to the staff on staff evaluation, so they'll know it isn't punitive, but a way to help them grow. This is largely a tenured staff, and what's interesting to me, is that they've indicated they WANT to be evaluated. This isn't common, in many systems. They want to improve, and they'll be involved in working out evaluation."

"After we see the areas where growth is needed," he continues, "how can we help staff grow? How can we let the good ones know we value them? This of course, gets you into staff development, which is closely linked with evaluation."

"I'd like to say to the town — please give us credit for what we're doing well. We have a great number of first-class professional educators doing a first-class job and children are receiving extremely high-quality education, but it hasn't been tied together very well, and I hope to do this. Teachers here have tremendous sensitivity to the children and to children's needs. Parents, in the community, acknowledge this, on an individual basis. They tell me what a wonderful teacher so-and-so was, for example."

The new superintendent has observed that, in Princeton, hot issues arise suddenly and are handled on an ad hoc basis. He would like task forces assigned to study, say, health and safety or long-range population projections. "Additives in food or

Man Around Town

Since his arrival from Birmingham, where he was assistant superintendent for program and staff development, Dr. Houston has moved around quite a bit in the Princeton community.

He is a regular attendee at the Princeton Methodist Church (his father was a Methodist minister and the superintendent himself held many positions in the church when he lived in Birmingham); he goes to Rotary's regular weekly sessions and plans to join; he chats with people at informal social gatherings and on the street.

"Half of my job — any superintendent's job — is in the community, and this is an adjustment for me because, as a person who came up through the ranks, I am completely staff-oriented, but I'm pleased with the way people in Princeton have responded to me."

Summer Intime's Production of 'Moonchildren' 'A Genuine Hit' as Current Season Nears End

To come to the point at once, Summer Intime has a genuine hit in "Moonchildren," its fourth and final offering of the season at Murray Theatre.

Michael Weller's comedy takes us into a hippily-furnished student apartment in a university town, shared by seven soon-to-graduate seniors. The time is 1969, when demonstrations against the Vietnam war were more "relevant" than mathematics and philosophy courses, and sharing a reflective cigarette was the natural gesture of friendship.

The interplay of these seven — eight later on, when wide-eyed Shelly joins the group after meeting serious-minded Norman in a peace demonstration — creates some friction, occasional flare-ups, and a great deal of audience laughter. The dialogue is frequently hilarious, though it is proper to warn persons who may be allergic to common, garden-variety four-letter words that these college seniors use them a lot.

Although there is some infighting between members of the group, they close ranks against intrusion by adults from the outer world. The latter include a fast-talking encyclopedia salesman; the glib, prying landlord who itches to glimpse some of the sexual orgies he is sure must go on in the apartment; and a pair of cops sent in by complaining neighbors. The individual and collective reactions to each enemy are a delight to watch.

An Apt Title. "Moonchildren" is a good title. That part of their lives which they let us see is often childish — their pranks, their humor, even their efforts to be serious. They are very close to each other, but impermanence hangs over everything.

In an affecting scene at the end of the school year they join in dismantling the apartment, and then go their ways with casual goodbyes. Most of them will not bother to stay for graduation.

I don't think Mr. Weller intends any great message, but I toy with the possibility that there may be touches of symbolism in the play. The blowing of soap bubbles — pretty things which go pop! — could be suggestive. Shelly's fondness for sitting under tables — just wacky or a hankering for protectiveness no matter how unstable? And the death of Bob's mother, which gets major emphasis at the end of the play, might suggest that tears, not laughter, is the goal toward which we all are heading. (In England, the play's original title was "Cancer.")

Topflight Direction. Summer Intime leads from strength with a gifted cast and a marvelously evocative set, but as hero of the occasion I nominate Mitchell Ivers, who once more proves himself to be a superb director. A play with a continually shifting cast and no individual stars succeeds or fails through its director. From its ingeniously original opening scene this play is alive and moving, in more senses than one. Each of the young people becomes a true individual, and I found myself caring what happens to each.

Keith Moore and Mark Nelson complete a season of great virtuosity with fine portrayals of contrasting characters. Mr. Moore's Bob conceals more inner strength than his friends are aware of. They can't believe he means it when he says he will enter the army. Mr. Moore is at his best in a long monologue in which he describes to a silent Kathy how his mother died. Mr. Nelson gives a memorable characterization as Norman, book-loving and soft-spoken, whose thoughts seem always to be about two jumps behind everyone else's. Larry Smith and Clayton Platt, as Mike and Cootie, have a secret weapon, humor. Everything serious is fair game for their foolery. Duncan Brine, the fifth man in the group, is good as the sharp-tongued Dick.

A Double Loser. Katherine Stewart is an attractive Ruth, the most practical-minded of the "kids." Margaret Emory is effective as Kathy, who can't make up her mind which of two men to be attached to, and eventually loses them both. Nancy Bleemer is a charming Shelly, who apparently gets along on the strength of a generous heart and a winning smile with not too much brain to interfere.

As Bob's Aunt Stella, whose unexpected visit opens her middle-aged eyes to how students live, Petie Duncan creates a real character in a single scene. Kimothry Cruse breezes his way to comic discomfiture as Ralph, the salesman.

Carl Williams is the center of two scenes as the landlord, Mr. Willis. At first apparently sympathetic and friendly, he succeeds in the difficult task of making himself the man you love to hate. Michael Vita contributes a masterly low-key interpretation of a nonsense but understanding policeman. John Hill as a rookie cop and Jon Tenney as a milkman round out the cast.

Kevin Wilkes' authentic hippie apartment, dominated by outsize posters and photographs, puts one in the mood to meet its occupants when the action begins. The raked stage serves two purposes: action at the back of the room is as clearly visible as that in front; and — to this reviewer's symbol-prone mind — the slanting floor seemed to foreshadow that the lives of those who walked this floor would be somehow askew too. (Symbol-prone or simple-minded?)

If You Think You're Hearing Football Music In August, You're Right: Here's the Answer

The campus of Princeton University, which used to be the sleepest place in town in the summertime, has been erupting recently with the resolute cadences of high school marching bands.

Youthful musicians with their drums and bugles and trumpets and tubas have been using campus facilities for "band camps," intensive periods of musical practice and marching drills that high school band leaders apparently feel are the best way to sharpen their units for the fall football season. The University provides dormitory space, food, and acres of practice space. Both Poe and Pardee fields south of the New New Quad have been outlined with the markings of football gridirons. In case of rain the bands can practice in either Jadwin or Dillon gymnasiums.

"The bands love it here," says Grace Morrison, an account representative with the University's Events Office, which attempts to rent the school's unused facilities during the summer.

Last year one band held a camp at the University. This year four bands are marching up and down the simulated football fields.

Bound Brook High School's marching band was in town last week for six days. Cherokee High School from Marlton sent its band for three days last week.

The Howell High School band from Farmingdale arrives on the campus this Sunday and will play and parade until next Wednesday. Franklin High School in Somerset will send its marching band to school next Monday. It will stay the entire week.

The University also is being used as the site of a gymnastics camp, a gathering of Transcendental Meditators, and a convention of the New Jersey Education Association.

FILMS, PUB, THEN.....

Goodbye, Intime. One more batch of films, one more Midnight at Eleven Cabaret, four more performances of "Moonchildren," and Summer Intime bows off stage until next year.

Alfred Hitchcock's thriller, "The 39 Steps" will be shown next Monday at 8 p.m. in McCormick Hall in the art museum on campus. It will be followed on Tuesday and Wednesday by the western comedy, "Cat Ballou", starring Jane Fonda and Lee Marvin.

The Midnight at Eleven Cabaret follows the last act curtain of "Moonchildren," and members of the audience only have to walk a few feet to the Princeton University Pub.

"The Cabaret requires closeness of actor and audience in a relaxed and open atmosphere," says director Paul Lawrence. Shows are at 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights, tickets are $3 ($2 students) and beer and wine are served.

In Kresge Auditorium. The final double bill of this first season of Summer Cinema in Kresge Auditorium will be "Next Stop, Greenwich Village" and "Lenny."

It's Lenny Bruce in the latter film, starring Dustin Hoffman as the late comedian, with Valerie Perrine as Bruce's wife, Honey. In "Lenny," director Bob Fosse uses bits of Bruce's nightclub act to show the comedian as artist and as punk — frequently at the same time. The director attempts to find the core of Bruce's grisly, drug-filled life and the relationship between his life and his artistry.

"Next Stop, Greenwich Village" is a nostalgic look at the New York of the 1950s, describing the momma-haunted youth who seeks fame and fortune as an actor in the Village. Lenny Baker plays Larry Lupinsky and Shelley Winters is his Jewish momma.

"Village" will be shown at 7:30 and "Lenny" at 9:30 on Thursday and Sunday. On Friday and Saturday respective times will be 8 and 10 p.m.

OPERA IS NEXT

At Washington Crossing. "The Elixir of Love," performed in English by the Princeton Opera Association, will be a Labor Day week-end celebration in the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing State Park.

Four performances at 8:30 p.m. will be given Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 1, 2, 3 and 4. The musical director will be Igor Chichagov and overall direction will be assumed by NOSTALGIA TRIP: Young "old-time jazz" players will give a Dixieland concert Friday as part of the Summer Sounds series. Jon Spiegel, the band leader, is at the piano, Todd Zwigard on sax. Standing are Jim Billow, trombone; Louis Geser, drums, and Davis Yokana, bass.

News of the Theatres

Guy Waid, a young singer who operates out of New York.

The plot — if one can call it that — concerns a quack doctor who provides a love-potion so that Adina will love Nemorino.

Selma Ehrlich (Pennington) and Mary Kemp (Hopewell), will sing the role of Adina on alternate nights. Nemorino, also double-cast, will be sung by Howard Crossland (Hamilton Township) and Randy Thompson (Cranbury). The quack doctor will be sung by Stephen Owen (Princeton). Harriet McCleary (Kingston) will sing Gianetta and Alan Weiman (Princeton University) has been cast as Belcore.

Peasants in the chorus are Dorothy O'Leary, Gilda Morigi, Shirley Peters, John Kling, Bruce Oswald, Regina Belza, Jim Danner, Clare Gross, Annette Mitchell, Shirley Nicholson, Dorothy Stoddard, Scott Warn, Dominic Finello, Anthony Vanella and Harry Lewis.

John Kemp has designed the set and Kathy Roller the lights. Nick Gardner is the stage manager.

DIXIELAND FRIDAY

At Community Park. Summer Sounds will feature "Definitely Jazz", Jon Spiegel's Dixieland Band, Friday at 7:30. This free outdoor concert will be held in the field behind Community Park School off Witherspoon Street.

The band is a group of musicians from the Princeton area who consider themselves the youngest "old-time jazz" players in the area. As one member of the group puts it, these young musicians are interpreting the styles of old jazz greats in their music to keep alive jazz sounds and spirit. They play such jazz tunes as "Tiger Rag", "Bill Bailey" and "Tin Roof Blues."

The musicians are Jon Spiegel, piano; Todd Zwigard saxophone; Davis Yokana, bass; Louis Geser, drums; Jim Billow, trombone; Fred Howe, trumpet; and Marty Johnson, clarinet.

The two-hour concert is sponsored by the Princeton Youth Fund in cooperation with the Recreation Department, the Arts Council and Princeton University.

"ROOTS" SCHEDULED

At State Museum. On Friday and Sunday afternoons, starting Friday, September 9, and continuing through the week-end of October 9, the State Museum in Trenton will show "Roots," the widely acclaimed documentary shown last winter on nationwide television.

There will be no charge for admission. Free tickets will be distributed in the lobby of the State Museum on a first-come-first-served basis, starting half an hour before show time, or 1 p.m. on Fridays and 2:30 p.m. Sundays. Show time is 1:30 and 3 on those days.

Each of the first three episodes will be 97 minutes long, and the last two episodes will be 145 minutes each. Children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult.

The "Roots" series was purchased by the Friends of the New Jersey State Museum to supplement the Museum's loan service. It will be made available later to schools throughout the state to enrich social studies classes.

AUDITIONS SCHEDULED

For Symphonic Orchestra. Mercer County Symphonic Orchestra, Matteo Giammarino, Conductor, will hold auditions for new members on September 12 and September 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the Music House, The Lawrenceville School. For application, call the School at 896-0400, ext. 22. Auditions are open to junior and senior high school and college-age string, brass, woodwind and percussion instrumentalists. Applicants should be prepared to play a solo piece, scales and sight read orchestral music.

nestos or hikes — whenever a health - safety issue arises, that particular task force would be available."

Declining Enrollment.
"Also we need to consider the implications of declining enrollment. Is this something we should be concerned about?"

These would be task forces appointed from the community, because Dr. Houston believes firmly that "we're missing the boat if we don't use the people in town."

Although he's new in town,
Dr. Houston knows enough history to know how Princeton feels about administrators in the system, and he acknowledges that "the temper of the town won't allow an increase in administrators."

But he says the number of administrators on the staff is low. True, enrollment in Princeton is down, but there are increasing state and Federal requirements, particularly in Thorough - and - Efficient education, and parents who demand various kinds of education for their children, and the paper work mounts and mounts. Dr.
Houston expects that the new assistant superintendent will help with much of this.

Responsibility to Board.
Regarding the school board, Dr. Houston says, "I am an employee of the board and my responsibility is to do what they want, or be as clear as possible why I can't do it. If at all possible, I should be giving them what they request unless it is against my integrity."

"I have a lot of learning to do and six weeks isn't very long to learn the answers.
Princeton's expectations are high — unrealistically high for a superintendent. Nobody can walk on water!"

"I can only be what I am: I am open and will listen. I like to seek a consensus, always looking for the middle ground between streams. I'll probably disappoint some people. When I start disappointing myself, I'll start worrying."

WALKATHON PLANNED
To Campaign for ERA. On Saturday, the day following the anniversary of the 19th (Woman's Suffrage) Amendment to the United States Constitution, walk-a-thons will be held in various parts of the nation to launch a final campaign to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment.
Three of the 15 states which have not yet acted must ratify in order for the amendment to pass.

NOW chapters in Princeton, Hopewell Valley, Somerset and Trenton are organizing the walk in Central New Jersey. There will be a rally at 9:30 at Trenton State College, followed by a 10 mile walk.

Money raised will go to the National ERA Strike Force, headed by Alice Cohan, a member of Trenton NOW. For more information, call 921-1305 or 799-8037.

SPORTS FANS

Brought to you
By Peggy Bernard

Strangely enough, every sport you can name has many left-handed players — except golf ... There have been just a few lefties ever to play the pro golf tour, and only one lefty — Bob Charles — ever won a major tournament ... People have different theories why there aren't more left-handers in golf, but there's no good reason why there can't be more ... It's one of the real oddities in sports.

Here's a very surprising football fact ... National Football League statisticians recently rated all the quarterbacks who ever played in the NFL, and the one who ranks No. 1 of all-time in their statistics is not one of the big super stars most people would think of first ... The man who ranks No. 1 in history is the Cincinnati Bengals' current quarterback, Ken Anderson ... NFL statisticians took all quarterbacks who have thrown a minimum of 1500 passes and rated them on a complex basis of percentage of completions, percentage of interceptions, touchdown passes and average yards per attempt ... Anderson ranks first of all-time, Sonny Jurgenson is second, Len Dawson third, Fran Tarkenton fourth and Bart Starr fifth.

"Capable Quarterback Key to Success in '77," Casciola Says as Tigers Gather for Practice

Princeton University's pre-season football practice will begin this week, as more than 90 members of the 1977 squad return for physical examinations, a picture-taking session Friday and the two-a-day drills that will continue until classes begin the week of September 11.

While a variety of problems must be solved if the Tigers are to do appreciably better than the dismal 2-7 season they and their fans endured last fall, "the key to a successful season," Coach Bob Casciola says, "is development of a capable quarterback." The picture is clouded by the fact that neither of the two varsity holdovers is by any means established at the position.

Senior Kirby Lockhart started seven of the nine games last year — all but the first (at Ithaca) and the last (against Dartmouth.) After the Tigers had run up a five-game losing streak, the call in the final game of the year went to Jack Flannery, who had lost the job to Lockhart when he failed to get the Tigers across the goal line against a very weak Cornell team. Flannery was a senior last year.

Various factors, ranging from a sophomore-dominated line bothered by injuries to an ankle sprain that persistently hobbled the fleet tailback, Bobby Isom, played a part in the ineptness of the Princeton offense, but when an attack sputters on a season-long basis, it is the quarterback who usually absorbs much of the blame. Lockhart accordingly returns to the campus with his job still very much up for grabs, and the "inside story" an educated guess that junior Steve Garza will replace him.

Rough Baptism. Hopefully for Garza's self-confidence, he has largely erased memories of his brief varsity career. Inserted toward the very end of last fall's 33-7 shellacking by Dartmouth, he never had a chance to throw a pass and the only time he sought to put the ball in motion was thrown for a five-yard loss that resulted in a safety.

He spent his sophomore year as the Varsity B quarterback, completing better than 50 percent of his passes and gaining valuable experience. At 200 pounds, he outweighs Lockhart by 20, and the added weight may aid him in the role of ball carrier.

There are only four quarterbacks on the roster, barely enough to keep intrasquad scrimmages going. The other two are sophomores Ken Barrett and Steve Reynolds from a freshman team that won only two of its six games, and if Lockhart and Garza stay whole, they do not figure to see varsity action.

The extreme uncertainty of Princeton's immediate football future is traceable to the fact that in 1974 and '75, the Tigers had an established quarterback in Ron Beible, who left college with the career passing record and a host of other marks in his name — and yet could not help the Orange and Black to more than nine victories during the 27 games in his days on the gridiron here.

In a word, while every team needs a player who can qualify for the enviable designation of "established quarterback," there are sufficient other problems here so that the birth of one will not automatically be followed by Princeton's emergence from the depths of the Ivy League's second division. Suppose, for example, that a healthy Isom, an improved line and take-charge ability on the part of either Garza or Lockhart puts more teeth in the Tiger than Palmer Stadium fans have seen in recent years. What is the likelihood that the Princeton defense in 1977 will come close to matching the ability of that platoon last fall — at least in the first seven games, before the bottom fell out against Yale and Dartmouth?

Gone with the Class of 1977 are the two three-year lettermen who played tackle so ably in a losing cause — Steve Fletcher and Ted Schiller. The latter was Princeton's only All-Ivy selection as a junior, and when no one made it last fall, he raised a few eyebrows as to what opposing coaches in the league were looking at by earning All-East ranking.

12 Points, 2 Victories. In all, six of the 11 starters on defense have graduated, leaving holes at four of the five spots on the line and two more at linebacker. Despite the constant pressure put on it by the inability of the offense to control the ball, the defensive unit kept the Orange and Black in every one of the first seven games until the end.

In the two games the Tigers managed to win, they scored a total of one touchdown and 12 points. Victory was possible because the defense shut out Cornell and also kept Columbia from crossing the goal line, as Princeton slipped by to win, 3-0 and 9-3. Both these opponents — particularly Cornell under Bob Blackman — figure to be stronger this year and there is no way that a scant dozen points will win this pair of games again.

In all, a dozen starters from 1976 and a total of 18 lettermen have completed their Princeton careers. The offense lost five players from its starting lineup, notably Captain Dan Fournier, the split end; his opposite number, tight end Todd Jacobson; and slot back Mike Carter, whose bright career as a junior was largely eclipsed by the team's overall problems last fall.

In one sense, the long-range picture appears fairly bright because a majority of the players who are currently expected to start on offense will be back a year from now. If the junior quarterback, Garza, gets the nod, there would be only two seniors on the field when the Tigers have the ball — Glenn Robinson at split end and Isom at tailback.

In late August, the depth chart shows the starters as Glenn Robinson, split end; Dwight Coleman and Dan Friel, tackles; Chet Szablak and Greg Bauman, guards; Andy Stephens, center; Isom at tailback and Gary Larson, fullback. Lockhart is listed as the starting quarterback, but watch for Garza's progress in this duel.

The slot back job, which Carter held, is currently unassigned because Jim Rutka, to whom it had been given, has left college. Robinson could play there, with Steve Tishman, a 6-5 junior, going to split end, or one of the members of the defensive unit could be converted to offense.

The over-riding question is, of course, the extent to which this squad can turn around the ever-lengthening string of losses that has been inflicted on Princeton teams in this decade. Momentum -- the force that a team used to winning most of its games -- can generate from one weekend to the next is totally missing here, and the search for even a small amount of it may well elude the Tigers again this fall.

KOFFEE KUP VICTOR
Keeps Women's Softball Title. Koffee Kup, last year's playoff champions, repeated with a sweep of Conte's Bar in the final playoff game of the Women's Softball League. It was Koffee Kup's 15th straight win.

The victors held a 9-7 lead after four innings, but broke loose for seven more runs during the next two innings to rout Conte's, 16-8. Judi Grisham knocked in five runs on four hits.

Lisa Yates, Sonnie Young and Vernell Carr also led the assault. Everal Kurtin of Koffee and Debbie Breithaupt of Conte's sparked on defense.

An All-Star team from the Women's League will play the Nassau Gnomes of WHWH at Community Park Thursday at 6 to benefit the Senior Citizens' Program. The second annual banquet of the Princeton Adult Softball Leagues will be held Saturday at the Nassau Inn. Tickets will be on sale at the Princeton Recreation Department, Valley Road School Building, until Thursday.

REGISTER NOW

For Punt, Pass and Kick. Boys (and girls) from this area may register now at Nassau-Conover Motors, Route 206, for the 17th annual Punt, Pass and Kick competition sponsored by the Ford Motor Co. The deadline is September 30.

Since its inception in 1961, the program has drawn more than 14 million youngsters into competition for trophies, an appearance on national television and an opportunity to have their names inscribed on the PP&K plaque at the Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.

To register, youngsters between the ages of 8 and 13 need to visit Nassau-Conover accompanied by a parent or guardian. There is no fee and contestants compete only against others their own ages. There is no body contact and no special equipment is needed. A free PP&K tips book is available at the time of registration.

The first of six levels of competition starts either the weekend of September 30-October 2 or October 7-9. Local dealerships will announce contest dates.

First-place winners at the local level move on to zone competition and winners there qualify for district competition. Rounds four and five (area and divisional competition) will be held at National Football League games.

By the time divisional contests are held, the number of contestants will have been reduced to 168, half representing the National Football Conference and the other half representing the American Football Conference. Divisional competitions will take place December 18 at Houston during the Houston-Cincinnati game and at Tampa during the Tampa Bay-St. Louis game. The 12 divisional champions, six from the NFC and six from the AFC, compete for the 1977 national PP&K championship on January 15 at Super Bowl XII in New Orleans.

PROGRAMS PLANNED

For Soccer Coaches and Fans. The Princeton Soccer Club plans to conduct two programs on Saturday, September 10, at Community Park.

The first, from 12:30 to 2, will be a coaches' clinic consisting of a basic discussion and demonstration of soccer -- its goals, rules, strategy, skills and play. Physical participation in this program will be limited to school coaches, and coaches or potential coaches of the Princeton Soccer Club; however, anyone else interested is invited to watch, inquire and contribute.

The second session from 2 to 4 will allow all ages to demonstrate their soccer skills and to win prizes in dribbling, juggling and kicking. No registration is required for either program, but coaches or potential coaches wishing to participate in the earlier session are asked to contact the club at 924-8631 or 924-5613.

ON TOURNAMENT TRAIL

With Jay Lapidus, Princeton's standout tennis player, Jay Lapidus, has competed as a representative of the Middle States Section in the 21-and-under National Junior Davis Cup Team matches held in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. The Middle States Section finished sixth in a field of 17.

After an opening 6-2, 6-0 win, Lapidus followed with a victory over Mel Purcell, ranked in the top five nationally in 18-and-under, of the Southern Section (6-4, 6-4) in singles and doubles. His third round victory was over Bruce Foxworth of Missouri Valley (1977 College Tennis All-American), who had beaten Vijay Amritraj the week prior to this tourney, in both singles and doubles. He lost to Larry Gottfried, No. 1 junior in the U.S., of the Florida Section (6-4, 6-4.)

Lapidus then entered the National 21 and under tournament at Tennisport in Long Island City, advancing to the quarter-finals before being defeated by Van Winitsky, U.S. and Wimbledon Junior Tennis Champion, of Florida. CONTE'S WINS OPENER

A Softball Championship. Conte's last week defeated Center Sports, 8-6, in the opening game of the Princeton Softball League playoffs. The two clubs will play a best of five series for the championship.

Conte's had advanced to the finals with a two game sweep of C. Square C. Center Sports and swept Ivy Inn in the semifinals.

Against Center Sports, Conte's scored three first-inning runs. Dave Drake singled with two out to score Jerry Perpetua and Rob Staats, who had both walked. Charlie Warshefski's hit drove in the third run.

Center Sports fought back with five in the second inning. Consecutive singles by Ray Pettus, Frank Caponi, Jeff Petrone, Greg Kline, Brendon Layton and Bill Bartolino produced the big inning.

Conte's tied the game in the third when Staats, Wesley Lawley, and Ed Coldren all singled and Drake hit a sacrifice fly. Each club then scored in the fourth inning to tie the game again at 6. Conte's won the game in the sixth as Jim Reed singled, Perpetua doubled and Staats scored.

A defensive play of the game occurred in the sixth when Gary Drake robbed Center's Bill Bartolino of an extra base hit with a spectacular diving catch. Jim Reese of Conte's won the game's offensive standout with three hits in three at-bats.

ADULT LEADER NAMED

At Indoor Tennis Center. The Princeton Indoor Tennis Center on Washington Road has announced that Carol Beske of West Windsor will be in charge of adult leagues for the coming season.

There are 16 different leagues in all. A few openings remain in some of the women's leagues and the men's weekend leagues. Names are also being accepted for those who wish to substitute.

Two men's leagues have been added this year, one on Sundays from 2:30 to 4 for high intermediates and advanced players; the other on Wednesday nights from 9:30 to 11, also for those of advanced ability.

Mrs. Beske is also organizing a singles ladder for both men and women. For details and registration, call the Indoor Tennis Center, 924-0015.

ETS VICTOR

Wins State Softball Title. Educational Testing Service won the American Softball Association's Industrial Slow-pitch state championship for the fourth year in a row at the state finals held in Parsippany. ETS did not do as well in regional competition at White Plains, N.Y., however, being eliminated in the third round after losing two out of three games.

ETS lost the first round of the state finals to AT&T, 5-1, but came back to win the next two, defeating All State Insurance, 16-2, and Lennox China, 9-4. The two victories earned them a second chance at AT&T. Trailing 8-3 in the sixth inning, ETS rallied to win, 11-10. A third contest against AT&T was an easy 9-1 victory for ETS.

In regional competition, ETS got off to a bad start in the first round when the 1975 national champions, the Nassau County Police team, racked up a 16-7 victory. ETS then defeated the New York City metropolitan area champions, 7-Up, 7-4, in the second round, but was eliminated in the third round when IBM won, 10-5.

LEADERS LISTED

In West Windsor Tennis, Bill Christensen, Brian Midland and Bob Zochowski remain undefeated and still hold their lead in the early men's doubles league in the West Windsor Recreation Commission's summer tennis program. They played the second place team of Joe Gonzalez, John Macdonald and Sam Shuren and won, 6-3, 6-3, to stay in front.

Gonzalez, Macdonald and Shuren slipped into a tie with Lloyd Bronson, Jay Sexton and Jim Swartz, both teams with six points, four in back of the leaders. In fourth place with five is the combination of John DiPolvere, Bob Nielsen and Janis Ziedonis.

In the late evening men's doubles league, Stan Katz, Richard Skalinski and Daryl Wartluft continue to hold the lead with nine points. Close behind with eight is the trio of G. W. Birtwistle, Len Sobelman and Harry Wyckoff. Three teams are tied for third with six points each: Dan Allen, Jerry Cohen and John Thompson; Mike Doyle, Ray Giudice and Dave Kendall; and Greg Christensen, Jerry Wang and John Lombardo.

Two weeks remain in regular season play and then the top four teams in both leagues engage in a playoff.

CONFERENCE PLANNED

For Tennis Teachers. The staff of the Princeton Community Tennis Program will conduct its seventh National Tennis Teachers Conference at the Roosevelt Hotel in New York next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

John Conroy and Eve Kraft, founders of the Community Program and co-directors of the USTA Education and Research Center, are co-directors of the conference.

This year's guests include John Newcombe, former winner of many Wimbledon and U.S. Open finals; Dick Stockton, ranked seventh in the U.S., and Tim Gallwey, author of "Inner Game of Tennis."

Henry Talbert, coordinator of the USTA National Development Program, will host a seminar on Wednesday, entitled "Mass Instruction in Schools and Parks." John Zorzi and Joe Diefenbach, associate directors of the Community Program, and Doug MacCurdy, director of tennis at the Lawrenceville Tennis Camp, will also appear at this seminar.

Steven Kraft, USTA junior coordinator and administrator of the USTA International Teaching Project, will host a seminar on teaching tennis in Africa and other underdeveloped countries.

All will be part of a hospitality committee for the three-day Conference, assisted by community program instructors Brad Caswell, Dan Thompson, John Moran and Bill Janney. In addition, those from the Princeton area who will be helping with administrative details are Karen Fitzpatrick Keeler, director of USTA publications; Julia Rudy, USTA film coordinator; Helen Keeler, USTA workshop coordinator; and Evie Thompson and Carol Bodine, research assistants.

For information about the Conference, inquire at the Tennis Office, 71 University Place, or call 924-4343.

If you're considering a Mercedes 280E, drive a Peugeot 604.

Like the Mercedes 280 E, the Peugeot 604 SL has four-wheel independent suspension, a responsive six-cylinder engine (ours is a V-6), power steering (ours is rack and pinion), a unitized body held together with thousands of welds, power windows, fully reclining front bucket seats, tinted glass, and meticulous attention to detail.

The Peugeot 604 has also been engineered for a superior level of comfort. With oversized shock absorbers, large coil springs, a floating differential, and seats that are actually tuned to the suspension system.

But comfort isn't the only thing that sets the 604 apart from the Mercedes. There's also the price. Which starts at about $11,000.* And which may be its most comforting feature of all.
